ABLE HANDS VOCATIONAL TRAINING CENTER UPDATE - Lima, Peru by Brian Weller

In a couple of weeks, I head back to Peru for the fifth time this year. We will be opening the Able Hands Vocational Training Center in Lomas de Carabayllo. Chuck Moore and Mike Goreski will join me. Chuck is a longtime friend, a ministry board member, and a master carpenter. Our future son-in-law, Mike Goreski, has already been to Peru with me three times. Mike has a big heart for God and for the people of Peru. Chuck will teach our first training classes at the Able Hands Center. Mike will be assisting me with other tasks including outreaches into some of the churches there.

With the opening of the Able Hands Center, many in the area are more hopeful than they've been for a long time. Because of God's love and the faithful gifts of our donors, many will now have an opportunity to step into a new vocation. We're excited, along with Pastor Gilberto and Doris, who lead the church we work with in Lomas, the church that is facilitating the Able Hands Center.

December 6th through 9th, after a time of prayer and dedication, Chuck will teach the first classes at the center. He will be teaching safety and then the basics of carpentry. Pastor Simon will teach basics of electricity. We're grateful to our friends Alex, Saul, and Hector for their new design for the pre-fab homes we'll be building at the center. We'll build the first home during the training classes, then we'll take it out to construct on-site for a family of seven in Pachacutec.

We plan to order four more pre-fab homes before we leave Peru. This way, we can immediately put the training center graduates to work and move towards opening our next training module. We have two Peruvian youth mission teams going out in January, and we have a team from Northside Christian School (from St. Petersburg, Florida) coming to Peru in March. Both teams will put up pre-fab homes for needy families, as well as doing other ministry showing God's love to the people.

If you would like to sponsor a home for a needy family, the cost is $1,500. This includes not only the home itself but also the cost of the concrete foundation and the electric. Once the home is up, we send you a picture of the home and the family you sponsored so that you can remember them and pray for them. Perhaps your family, church, Bible study group or Youth Group would like to sponsor a home. It is the gift of a lifetime for a Peruvian family stuck in a cycle of poverty.

CHRISTMAS BLESSING PROJECT UPDATE Peru and India

Thank you for your responses to the Peru Christmas Blessing Project. It's always a blessing to pass along your gifts to the Peruvian leaders. It enables them to reach the children in their communities with a small gift at Christmas. Your donation of $2 provides a gift for a needy child.

We also plan on sending funds to Living Hope Ministries of North India, which is led by DC and Sona Kaushal. This will be our fourth year assisting them in the India Christmas Blessing Project. The children in Delhi and Punjab suffer especially in months from December to February due to the cold weather there each year. We ask you to pray and to extend your hand to bless them this Christmas. For your gift of $10 you will provide these children with shoes, socks, a sweater and a warm hat. We would like to provide funding for these items for at least 300 children, and for more of course, if possible.

PERU FIELD REPORT

Special thanks to Pastor Jose Amaya. Pastor Jose gave up most of his vacation days from the Peruvian Navy to build a home made from pallet wood for a very needy family. Thanks also to his family -- Amanda, Joselyn, and Jonathan -- for helping!

A special thanks to Pastors Gilberto, Fabian and Jose for organizing this Peruvian youth mission outreach in Pachacutec. And special thanks also to all the young people who gave of their time to bless others.
